APS GALLERY

Inside Outside

24 March - 12 May 2023

An exhibition exploring representations of the land, body, and mind. Landscapes have been depicted in many ways throughout history, but they are often intertwined with deeper layers of meaning. The shape of the land could be reflective of a body, a solitary tree could symbolise personal struggles, or represent a moment captured that explores the elements of light, space, and time. Each artist featured offers their own personal journey and viewpoint that encapsulates the world we see inside and outside.

This exhibition showcases the diverse talents of the Associate Members of Aire Place Studios; Sarah Francis, Ashley Ferrari, Joss Cole & Lucy Fiona Morrison.

All artworks are available to purchase and ready to hang.

For a limited time only APS Gallery will be lifting the 25% commission on artworks by Sarah Francis & Lucy Fiona Morrison. Working in special partnership, we aim to ensure the public can access the works of these two artists at affordable prices and look to help support their ongoing artists creative development fundraising.

Both artists are fundraising to engage in the USA art scene this year. Sarah Francis will be showcasing artwork in a group exhibition in September at Leslie-Lohman Museum of Art in New York. A dedicated LGBTQIA+ art museum. Lucy Fiona Morrison will be touring across Pennsylvania in Spring, exploring a network of independent galleries, and taking inspiration for a new series of paintings.

The commission-free pricing is highlighted in red in the catalogue.

Sarah Francis

About:

Sarah Francis is a transdisciplinary artist who works predominantly with paint, sculpture and photography. Francis uses the exhibition space, photographic lens and viewer interaction as key elements that define and frame the artworks physical form while acknowledging its off-stage possibilities and capacity to morph within view. Francis’ works both conform within and intrude beyond the physical space they occupy, replicating the acts of masking and framing that have characterised her neurodiverse and queer identity, and the energy spent meeting societally perceived norms. Film and photography influence Francis' exploration of these dual identities, and the imperfection and ephemerality of memory, of what’s real or re-collected. Francis art playfully presents multiple (framed & un-framed) realities, offering interpretations that hold darkness and joy.

Her work has been shortlisted for the Saatchi Gallery’s Art of Giving Prize, selected by Richard Billingham for Curator’s Choice Noise Young Talent 2009, and recognised in Aesthetica’s 100 Best Contemporary Artists in Europe. In addition to her work, Sarah Francis is the Founder and Director of Aire Place Studios, Leeds.

Ashley Ferrari

About:

Ashley Ferrari is a self-taught painter who works in oils. She creates ethereal landscapes which are often imaginary in nature, and is particularly drawn to the night sky. Her inspiration comes from experiencing the elements in their pure form and wanting to recreate this sense of invigoration. Through her work, Ashley aims to evoke a sense of peace and stillness within the viewer and to provide respite from this chaotic world.

Joss Cole

About

There is a conceptual link between literature (poetry), visual art and life the paintings I make are made to connect these links. The work's aim is to be associated with poetry but not to follow the often cringe worthy pairing of the adjective, 'poetic', and painting.

Joss's paintings focus on areas such as rhythm, semantic content, visual and verbal puns and the real life ways both physical and visual that poetry can be considered a key discourse in painting.
